CLIENT: BAT KENYA

BRAND: VELO
MARKET: KENYA
OFFERING: HORECA ACTIVATIONS

THE BRIEF

To re-introduce VELO nicotine pouches (a highly regulated product) back into the market by creating and executing a unique BTL strategy to amplify awareness, educate consumers on the category/brand and drive guided trial and consideration by consumers.

OUR SOLUTION:

With our conceived BTL strategy “Level Up”, we explored different regulator-approved ways of creating a buzz around the product’s re-entry with consumer experiences that were aimed at driving memorability and talkability within select premium nightclubs and outlets.

THE EXECUTION:

Our rationale was to tap into the passion points of our TA which led us to using activation elements such as the trending 360 photo booth and an F1 racing simulator, both of which received commendable consumer engagement. We also used brand activators to facilitate guided product trial.

RESULTS:

93%

4,863 consumers engaged translating to a 93% success rate.

87.8%

906 cans and 171 sachets of the product sold translating to 87.8% against the target.
